Mental Health Nursing

The branch of nursing concerned with the prevention, care, and cure of mental disorders. It uses theories of human behavior as its scientific framework and requires the use of the self as its art or expression in nursing practice.

RELATED SUBJECT HEADINGS/
RESEARCH TOPICS

Mental disorders, mental illness, psychiatric nursing, psychological problems, psychopharmacology, psychoses

BOOKS

ENCYCLOPEDIAS

VIDEOS/MULTIMEDIA

WEBSITES

- AIMS Center Resource Library
- American Psychiatric Nurses Association
- HRSA: Health and Resources Administration
- National Institute of Mental Health
- National Institute on Drug Abuse
- CDC: Mental Health Data and Statistics
- SAMHSA Center for Behavioral Health Statistics